The showe is the title of a suit for divorce, instituted reeently in the Second District Court of this city, by one of our most prominent and respectable citizens, who, we are sure, has the entire sympathy of the community in the infortunate and deplorable difficulty in which he has become involved. This cause is so closely connected with the proceedings in New York, which have been reproduced in our news columns; that we feel compelled to Woodman, to appear within the legal delay and answer this petition; and that, after due proceedings had, your Honor will adjudge and decree that your petitioner and the said Caroline be and remain perpetually divorced a vingulo matrimonic, and placed in the same condition as respects each other as if their said marriage never had happened, and for general relief in the premises.

Decisions in Admiralty. UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

Before Hon. Judge Betts.

COLLISION BETWEEN A STRAMER AND A SAIL VESSEL Daniel Gildersleeve vs. the Propeller Quinebaug .- This was a libel filed by the owner of the schooner Sailor's De light, to recover the damages occasioned to her by a collision with the propeller, which occurred about 9 o'clock in the evening of Feb. 2, 1854, in the East river, three or the evening of Feb. 2, 1854, in the East river, three or four miles west of Sands' Point. The propeller was bound into the Sound, and the schooner was bound to Brooklyn. The wind was about north and the tide ebb. The vessels came in plain view of each other near the Stopping Stones, and each claimed to have been running a course which would have been safe to both if the other had held her ewn, and each charging a deviation upon the other. Held by the Court—That the fixed principle applicable to such collisions, that the steamboat, when apprised of the position and course of the sail vessel, must take all due precaution to keep out of her way, determines the case, without requiring an analysis of the conflicting statements of the witnesses; that the change of direction proved by the claimant to have been made by the schooner did not absolve the steamer from the obligation to keep out of her absolve the steamer from the obligation to keep out of her way, as the movement was jaintly seen from the propel-ler at a distanc eamply sufficient to have enabled her to run out of the schooner's way; that as the propeller had full time, by starboarding her helm, to have secured a safe passage to both vessels, she was bound to have adopted that precaution, and cannot justify her holding to the line of movement she was on, because the schooner was en-creaching upon it. Decree for libelant, with a reference.

creaching upon it. Decree for libelant, with a reference.

MASTER'S WAGES—SECILORNEE—SEC OFF.

Christian'S Shears re. Prefereick'S Littlejohn.—This was a libel to recover wages due to the libellant for services as master of the barge Vanderbilt, from November, 1855, the answer made issues as to the duration and rate of the contract of hiring alleges that his interest in the barge was sold in May, 1856, to Fitzhugh & Littlejohn, in whose employ the libellant was thereafter; and sets up that while in their employ he was negligent and careless, and caused the loss of rigging, cauvas and other property belonging to the boat, the value of which should be deducted. Decree for libellant, with a reference.

SEPPLIES—JOIN OWNERS—MONTMAGE OUT OF POSSESSON.

should be deducted. Decree for libellant, with a reference.

**REPLIES—JUNY OWNERS—MORTHAGE OUT OF POSSESSION.

**William M. Dodge et al. vs. Arthur Leary et al.—The libel alleged that in November, 1854, the libellants and respondents were joint owners in the bark Storm Berd; that said vessel was fitting for sea under the superintendence of Appleton Oaksmith, and that the libellant furnished ship's husband supplies for the use and service of the vessel, amounting to $251 44. The answer denied the joint ownership and alleged that the supplies were furnished on the credit of Oaksmith alone. Oaksmith testified on the hearing that the respondents only held a nominal title. Libel dismissed with costs.

**Joseph Bartrop vs. the Bark Murcha.—This was a libel to recover $30 for supplies furnished to the bark. The claimant excepted to the libel for insufficiency. Libel dismissed with costs.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE METHODIST PROTESTANT CONVENTON—A SPLIT INEVITABLE ON THE SLAVERY QUESTION.—We give this morning the concluding proceedings of the Methodist Protestant Convention yesterday, when the body adjourned sine die. It will be seen by the report which we have given from day to day, of the debates and action of the Convention, that there is a settled conviction smongst the delegates that a separation between the Northern and Southern portions of the conference is an inevitable result—if not immediately, at least not far dustant. The Northern members regard human slavery as a sin, and decline to fellowship, as brethren of the church, those who tolerate, encourage and traffic in slave, holding and slave-trading. Neither section will submit, and as separation is inevitable, the seoner it comes, and all matters in controversy be peaceably arranged, the better it will be for the harmony and usefulness of both sections.—Cincinnati Gasette, Nov. 17.

A HOUSE FOUND EIGHTEEN FEET BELOW THE EARTH'S SURFACE.—During the excavation of a street in Evansville, Indiana, last Tuesday, the workmen came across the remains of a cabin eighteen feet below the surface of the earth. This wonderful subterrancan house was about twelve feet in length, formed by upright posts set in she ground, and boarded up with split oak puncheons, secured by wooden plus. The posts, puncheous and pins were partially decayed, but still stack together. Within the wall were found portions of an old fashioned spinning wheel, a wooden maul, several pairs of boots and choses, and the identical charred stick which the former occupants of the house had used to punch the fire with.—

STILL ANOTHER SUCDER.

Immense excliement at No. 39 Broadway.

It appears from what we can gather that there arrived by the steamer Marion, on the 10th instant, about forty Hermuda residents, all rich and really spiendid fellows, who had been forced from their native shore against their inclinations to take up their residence in this land of the free and home of the brave. They put up at Mr. W. Palmer's house, No. 39 Broadway. Testerday morning two were seized by the remorseless butcher, who with cold blooded atrocity stabled them in the abdomen with a knife at least twelve inches in length. As there was no post mortem examination held on the bodies, we cannot give the particulars, but it is supposed they died instantaneously. But to the sequel. After having murdered both, as if to gloat still further his fendals passions, the assassin placed fragments of the bodies in a large pol and actually bodied them, seasoning with spieces, smiling the odor from time to time and occasionally insting of the precious morsel. What is worse than all, the assassin is still at large, and was heard to use the threat that the remainder of the party should be slaughtered this week. We have since been informed the murderer's name is clock, while the views of the horrid butchery were maned Turties. The bodies will be on exhibition at No. 39 Broadway, where quere and composite in his height years' experience at the Washinton Blood Turties.
